

Profit Reports For First Half Of 1955 Good

Even Railroads Say Business Better Than 1954

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Profit prospects are bright as business enters the second half of the year.

The first 34 industrial corporations to report on earnings for the first six months of their fiscal year show net income after taxes, on average, running 12 per cent higher than a year ago. More than half of them noted improvement, and in some instances the gains were substantial.

Railroad profits are even more impressive when compared with a year ago. In the first five months of this year, net income was running nearly double that of the previous year. It is widely expected that when the full six months figures are in, the picture will continue just about as rosy.

Bank earnings are expected to be very satisfactory when the financial institutions make their reports in the next week or two. Higher interest rates from investments, and increasing demand for loans to business, have aided the banks. Other lending institutions are sharing the same prosperity.

Utilities are enjoying increased sales volume. Electrical power output is now at an all-time peak.

The 34 industrial corporations that have already reported are among those whose fiscal years don't jibe exactly with the calendar year. Their reports can be used only as an indication of what total corporation earnings will look like when, in a month or so, the big flood of profit statements flows in.

Combined the 34 showed first half net income of $74,007,509. A year ago the same 34 had combined profit of $65,967,988. The increase was 12.1 per cent.

But 15 of the 34 slipped back this year, most of them only slightly.

Among the companies showing notable gains in profits this year over last were firms in the textile, farm machinery, container, rubber and plywood industries.

Studying the general field or corporate profits before taxes, the Federal Reserve Board reports that in the first three months of this year they were running at an annual rate of 40 billion dollars. This compares with 34½ billion in the previous year, a gain of 19 per cent.

Marines Get Outmaneuvered

CINCINNATI (AP)—Walter Sheets outmaneuvered the Marines by getting divorced.

The 24-year-old Portsmouth resident wanted to rejoin the corps. But Marine regulations ban the reenlisting of a man with dependents. And Sheets had four—his pretty wife, Nancy Ann, 22, and their three children, Vickie, 4; Steffi, 2, and Tommy, 5 months.

He had little trouble persuading Nancy in getting a divorce until he was back in uniform. She agreed.

"What he wants, I want," she sighed.

The Scioto County common pleas court ended their marriage last Friday. Then armed with his divorce papers and his ex-wife, he reenlisted in the Marines for four years.

The couple will be remarried within a few days, they said. And Nancy added she will join her husband-to-be wherever he goes.

Downpour Here Put City In 'Wet' For June

Thanks to a downpour of more than an inch and one-half of rainfall on the afternoon of June 24, local precipitation ended the month nearly one-half inch above normal.

Adjusted figures at month's end revealed the Circleville district during June had received 4.59 inches of rain. The Columbus weather bureau has estimated that normal for June in this area is 4.17 inches.

Prior to the downpour on June 24, local figures had drifted more than one-third inch behind normal. June's rainfall this year was in marked contrast to that registered for the same month last year, when the district ended the month with a deficit of 1.37 inch.

OBSERVERS have warned farmers, however, not to be misled by periodic "wet" showings in the month-by-month, or even yearly, totals. Progress of the drought across the nation's farmlands has been evident for a long time.

The Herald's drought "score" will be resumed late next week to chart the July rainfall.

Fathers Recall July 4th Not What It Used To Be

NEW YORK (AP)—The small boy of today doesn't know what he's missing—though his father does.

For the Fourth of July ain't what it used to be. An American tradition—fireworks—is only a dim but fond memory in most of the country.

True, the big, spectacular display types of pyrotechnics still can be seen in some areas at fairs, picnics and civil celebrations. That hardly matches the old-time boyhood thrill of touching a punk to the fuse of a five-inch salute—and then getting away from it as fast as possible.

This year has seen a once huge industry attain its gloomiest—and quietest—level.

With Georgia joining the ever-growing ranks, 28 states now ban what the trade calls "commercial fireworks."

This is the retail variety, sold in corner stands, filling stations and all kinds of places to (as one industry source puts it) "kids from 6 to 60."

Use of the display types, under handling of experts, is permitted.

Fourteen other states have various restrictions, some of them permitting "county option" as to whether fireworks will be sold.

In only six states no restrictions have been imposed by the legislature. They are Nevada, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri. Even in these, numerous "BLACKBOARD JUNGLE" is a story that tells how the teaching profession has to meet grim threats in the nation's juvenile delinquency problem. In the schoolroom battle pictured above, Glenn Ford attempts to wrest a switchblade knife from a trouble-making pupil, Vic Morrow. The feature, which starts at the Grand Theater Sunday, is based on Evan Hunter's best-seller novel.

Hose Disappears In Ground, Giving Owner The Willies

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP)—The garden hose that George Di Peso bought isn't watering the lawn. It is giving George the willies. It is doing the Indian rope trick, in reverse.

He'd take it back to the hardware store, if he could handle it. Di Peso made all this known today, and more, as follows: The hose is behaving like a snake, although it only a half inch in diameter and made of plastic. It has burrowed itself into the Di Peso lawn, and it keeps going deeper into the ground. Nobody can pull it out. The water hasn't been turned on.

Everybody tried a hand in reclaiming the sinking hose, but the more they pulled the deeper it sank into the lawn. Di Peso hitched it to the bumper of his auto and pulled in low gear, but the hose stretched, then snapped near the faucet.

To compound the mystery, the hose then sank another 18 inches

Farm Prices Drop Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported that average farm product prices declined four-tenths of 1 per cent during the month ended June 15.

The department said farm prices were 1.6 per cent below a year ago and 21 per cent below the record high set in February 1951.

Prices paid by farmers for commodities and services used in farm production and in family living averaged the same as a month ago and as a year ago. But they were 2.7 per cent below the record high set in May 1952.

Woman Thwarted One In Suicide

NEW YORK (AP)—A mother of two, thwarted in one attempt to leap from a tall office building, killed herself a short time later.

Mrs. Doris Blake, 35, of Wantagh, N. Y., broke away from building employees who Friday pulled her back from the 31st floor ledge of a financial district skyscraper. "I've got an appointment," she told them and ran from the building.

Three blocks away she rode to the 55th floor of another building and plunged from a window to a 32nd floor setback.

Neighbors in Wantagh on Long Island reported she is the wife of a bank employee, has two children and recently suffered a nervous breakdown.

Traffic Safety Pamphlets To Be Distributed

Pamphlets on traffic safety—1,500 of them—will be distributed throughout Circleville this week-end by local Boy Scout troops.

The pamphlets, published by an insurance firm, were ordered by the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee. They are entitled, "Misguided Missiles."

On the front, the traffic safety committee has printed its own, newly adopted slogan, "Safety Is Here To Stay — Are You?" Also on the front is another slogan, "Your Chances To Remain Alive, Depend A Lot On How You Drive."

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Fourth In Series On 'Prayer' Told To City Methodists

The minister of First Methodist Church, the Rev. Charles D. Reed, will use for his sermon subject in the duplicate services of worship at 8:15 and 10:45 a. m. Sunday, "The Importance of Intercessory Prayer." This will be the fourth of a series of sermons on the general subject of "Prayer."

We will be reminded on The Fourth of July of our freedoms for which men have fought and died, and the most precious of all our freedoms is "the freedom of worship. It was primarily for this freedom that our pilgrim fathers came to this country. The power and privilege of prayer will aid in the preservation of this freedom of worship. The secret to true spiritual power is prayer."

In the early service, Mrs. Larry Graham and Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh will sing a duet, "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," by Roma. In the second service, a mixed quartet, composed of Mrs. Larry Graham, soprano, Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh, alto, Gene Cronenwett, tenor, and Charles Kirkpatrick, bass, will sing, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled," by Mueller.

Mrs. Ervin Leist will be at the organ for both services.

In the choir, "The Prayer of a Norwegian Child," will be sung as a solo by Miss Donna Mitchell. In honor of our country's true God, the congregation will sing a national hymn, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee"; also, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," and the communion hymn, "Here, O My Lord, I See Thee Face to Face."

Bible Words To Live By

I CORINTHIANS 16:2 — "On the first day of every week, each of you is to put something aside and store it up, as he may prosper..."

The honest seeker after a New Testament pattern of Christian stewardship (not a hold-over from Jewish antiquity) finds in this verse a fair and equitable procedure. It is personal, proportionate and provident. The expression "each of you," omits no one. It includes all communicants and interested individuals. It is fair to indicate that even the child in the family circle should be encouraged to make his personal gift. The expression "as he may prosper" makes giving flexible and relative to a variable income. We know of adults still giving to Sunday School the same nickel they gave as children. A fixed habit prevents development. The expression "the first day of every week" conveys the "provident" suggestion — providing for the on-going needs of the serving organization.

God, who created and sustains an ordered universe has not left His organization, the Church, to muddle along with catch-as-catch-can methods of underwriting its needs.

Dr. Neal K. McGowan, West Side Christian Church, San Francisco, Calif.

Baptismal services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in Scippo Creek on Kingston Pike on the Montelius Farm. The public is invited to fellowship in the service.

Services will be in charge of Rev. L. S. Metzler and members and friends of The Gospel Center.

the Rev. James B. Recob, will deliver the sermon during the 9 a. m. worship hour. His topic will be, "Prescription For Freedom".

Calvary Church welcomes all visitors who desire to come to the Church for Christian fellowship and worship.

WANT ONE GOOD REASON?

Of course you "ought to go to church," you say. But, you keep putting it off.

Then here's just one of the many reasons why you should start going to church—NOW!

As an American, you like to come and go where you please, and when. You like to speak what you please, and how. You like to pursue life, liberty, and happiness as you will. And in these United States you can—because we still have freedom. You can worship in whatever church you choose—or not at all.

But this freedom of religion and all our other liberties should not be taken for granted. Throughout free countries, the Church is fighting the peril of communism, lest individuals be strangled into hopeless, plodding submission.

Freedom, then, is reason enough. Go to church! Support and uphold the Church—NOW!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE NATION'S BIRTHDAY
COMMENTATORS have fallen into the habit of mourning or deriding what they call the old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration. The big cities are generally deserted on the nation's greatest holiday. In less congested areas, however, the Fourth is celebrated much as it always has been. Certainly patriotic emotion is as strong as ever, even through holiday speechmaking has been tempered to the tastes of a less florid age. Perhaps better than some generations of the past do we understand how precious is our heritage, for upon us has been imposed the task of preserving it. Americans count the years of independence from 1776, but it was not until Yorktown, five years later, that the brave assumptions of the Philadelphia Declaration became facts. They were five years of alternating hope and despair. The War of Independence was fought not only with meager resources but with deep internal division. Not all who supported the war were free of doubts about its wisdom. And there were many who actively opposed separation. These were the Tories, who comprised a determined and dangerous fifth column which gave much aid to the British. They acted as saboteurs and spies and guerrillas and spread harmful propaganda. In the government itself there was confusion and bickering. There was incompetence, and finally there was the demoralizing treason of a famed and trusted general. Here were 13 feeble colonies, stretched thinly along the Atlantic seaboard and joined by the flimsiest of bonds, challenging one of the world's great military powers. Except for France, which intervened for its own reasons, they had no friend in Europe, where revolution was regarded with horror. Never was a cause less promising. Nevertheless it succeeded. The parallels between the perils of nine score years ago and those of today are startling and reassuring. We made good our Declaration of Independence under the least hopeful of circumstances and went on to establish a tradition of human freedom and equal justice that is now under insidious attack by a monstrous conspiracy that is worldwide in scope. We have dedicated ourselves to maintaining that tradition. Maintain it we shall, and at any cost.

RODEO TIME
RODEO, REGARDED by many as a passing fad before the war, shows no indications of a let-up in interest. More rodeos than ever before are being staged this summer, the crowds are larger and more enthusiastic and top entertainment is being provided by the performers. The rodeo performer is a numerous clan who takes many risks and is seldom flush financially. He "makes" rodeos in many states during a season and is almost wholly dependent upon winning prize money to eat. The exhilaration he derives from conquering a buck or rasslin' a bad 'un provides most of the incentive. The best of the rodeo cowboys look forward to participation in the Cheyenne and Pendleton 'shows' as the high points of the season, and the top hands who have the fare to go to Madison Square Garden in the fall, where a rodeo that lasts for a month is staged and the stock is not so wild and the prizes larger. Last year spectators paid more than a million dollars for seats at the New York rodeo.

FORGOTTEN INVENTOR
DID SOMEBODY invent chromium, or did it just happen? If this bright coating, without which civilization would not be the same, was the brain child of one man, he deserves proper recognition. Certainly nothing ever produced by modern industrial alchemy had wider application. If use of chromium by automobile manufacturers is extended further, some models will soon appear in an over-all coat of aluminum. And liberal applications of the lustrable and shiny plating are found in thousands of other products, from kitchen equipment to typewriters. Chromium is the first plating substance which does not require polishing and this, added to its durability, swept it into the great lead it enjoys. But who invented it? Surely a man who achieved so great an impact on product design deserves to be identified.

George E. Sokolsky's These Days
On many questions, the real difficulty that faces our government is that we "just growed." Up to World War II, our people were not conscious of security. They assumed that the Germans and Japanese had spies in this country and that there were a few troublesome anarchists around. But generally it was held that an American was always a loyal citizen, no matter how peculiar his ideas might be. Then the Harold Ware group appeared on the scene (1934) and the House Committee on Un-American Activities, under Representative Martin Dies, commenced its investigation of Communists, Fascists and other unusual people. It was not, however, until the Alger Hiss, Remington and Coplon trials and the trial of the First String Communists that Americans became conscious of a gnawing evil. Federal, State, governmental and private agencies appeared on the scene to wipe out this conspiracy. In addition, several screwball organs appeared which confused anti-Semitism, anti-Catholicism, anti-Negroism, anti-New Dealism with anti-Communism. Also some crooks got into the picture who discovered how to earn a living out of their opposition to Communism. Their propaganda was not based on knowledge of Marxism; it was based on hate. Their profane advocacy of hate made genuine anti-Marxists ashamed and drove thousands of Americans into silence because they were unwilling, even in a good cause, to be identified with scoundrels. In this group, it is wrong to include the recognized informants and the undercover agents who, at the risk of their lives and all ways of their comforts, and for trifling compensation, served the FBI, the Immigration Service, and various Congressional committees, as soldiers do on the field of battle. Some informants, under the stress of opposition and often distressed by an ungrateful government which failed to protect them, went sour. At least one was bought off. Senator Joe McCarthy's service was to dramatize the issue. Toward the end of his hearings, tired, sick, battered for weeks by the opposition, he became entangled in a quarrel with the White House and was struck down by the full force of Executive power. This particular quarrel could have been avoided by both sides; it had the effect of making McCarthy and not Communism the issue. As between McCarthy and Eisenhower, most Americans chose Eisenhower. Subsequent to those hearings, the Communists gained courage and again took the offensive. Many anti-Communists supported the issues that the Communists raised. For instance, a great many professors in universities felt that in the process of the battle against Communism, a general attack on "intellectuals" was being launched. The Communists cleverly opposed conformity and many who are not Communists also opposed conformity. This was one of those "big lie" slogans that Marxists project to skillfully. It has been successful. The Fund for the Republic, which received $15,000,000 from the Ford Foundation, took up this fight and became a sort of actions committee on the side of what they call civil rights. It has worked out to be a defense organization. The Fund for the Republic is a private body using tax-free money to do exactly on one side what it regards as improper for citizens to do on the other side. It employs investigators and snoopers to discover what active anti-Communists have been doing in the fight. What is needed is a governmental policy on the subject. What are the precise functions and rights of the FBI? How shall its security be protected? What are the specific functions of the various security activities of the Federal Government and what are the rights of those who may be suspected of some such activity as Harry Dexter White's? How shall Congressional committees conduct their hearings? What is the function of the Passport Office, the Immigration Service, the Department of Justice in the security set-up? Suppose a man is unjustly or spitefully accused, by what process does he clear his name? Actually, today, no swift and complete means are available for such a purpose. A way was found in the motion picture industry which produced good results and was fair all around. It worked well for three years, 1951 to 1954, and then collapsed. The problem of security is real. The methods have been inadequate and sometimes unjust. A solution must be found because we cannot be without security in the present confused world; yet we must not be unjust to any American citizen. Folks will be less surprised by developments if they remember that summer is always hot and winter is always cold.

Waterproof Diapers May Give Tot A Rash
By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
WATERPROOF diapers or pants are a necessary part of your baby's wardrobe. They are very handy for traveling. At home, however, they may be a different matter. Many mothers keep their babies clad in waterproof diapers all night and a good portion of the day. For some infants, this practice can be harmful; others will suffer no ill effects. Uncomfortable for Him Tight waterproof pants prevent the air from circulating properly. They keep the moisture from drying and may make your baby's buttocks perspire. Your tot may find them uncomfortable warm. Diapers remain much wetter when they are encased with waterproof pants, since the surrounding clothing can't absorb any of the moisture. Nor can the air evaporate. Under these conditions, bacteria tend to accumulate and diaper rash sometimes results. Skin Rash There's only one way to determine whether your youngster can stand these waterproof pants for a full night. Try it. If no rash appears, his skin is not bothered and you can continue. If you do use waterproof pants, I advise you to wash them each day with soap and water. Hang them in the sun to dry. This will help destroy any germs which may have survived the washing. Elastic Bands Don't use rubber pants with tight elastic bands around the waist and leg opening. These bands tend to press into your baby's skin and even stop his circulation. Instead of waterproof pants, you might try this: Cut some plastic material into pieces 8 by 10 inches in length. Place one of these pieces into the folds of the diaper so that it does not touch his skin. If your youngster suffers diaper rash, this might be the answer to your problem. QUESTION AND ANSWER R. S.: I have had chills and sweating most of the winter. What can I do to prevent such an attack next winter? Answer: Chills and sweating come from a variety of causes. They may be due to a thyroid deficiency or to infections of various types. Change of life is another cause. A careful examination by your doctor should be carried out in order to determine the source of your difficulty.

THE BOSS of BROKEN SPUR
By Nick Summer
CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE
AS CAMERON approached his own house, he saw a lamp burning. He neared the window softly till he could look through without being observed. What he saw satisfied him. He put up his horse and went in. A man rose to greet him—a man with green eyes and a scarred face, whose trail-dusty clothes sat with an incongruous elegance on his lean body. "Hello, Lon," Cameron said quietly. "Wasn't expectin' you so soon." The gambler grinned. "When you've got a game to play, why wait?" "Anybody see you come in here?" "I don't think so. What does it matter if they did? Nobody around here knows me." "That's what you think. Riordan's here—and the redhead." "Good." The green eyes glittered, and the long white gambler's hand moved unobtrusively toward Calder's gun-belt. "I slipped up once, but I won't again." "Take it easy, Lon," Cameron's voice was soft, but it carried command. "I got this thing all set up. You're not goin' to spoil it rushin' in too soon." "All right, but when the time comes, remember, the redhead's mine, nobody else's." "All right, all right," Cameron soothed him as he might have calmed a fractious child; then he gave way to mild impatience. "But remember, this is the biggest thing we ever pulled off. If it goes right, we'll neither of us have anything to worry about as long as we live. So don't be goin' off half-cocked just because some puncher beat your time with a dance-hall girl. No woman's worth it." For a moment the gambler's eyes looked dangerous, but Cameron faced him down steadily. He'd always been able to handle Calder; that was why their partnership had lasted. Calder relaxed and grinned again. "You always were a cold-blooded proposition, Wayne. How you making out with your girl?" "All right," Cameron said shortly. "She doesn't know it yet, but she'll come around in time." "In time! Wayne, you're losing your touch. I expected to find you married by now." "This isn't Lita," Cameron retorted. "This girl's smart. I've got to go slow. That was always your trouble, Lon, wantin' to rush things. Look what happened in Dodge. It was a good enough scheme, but you didn't take time to plug up the loop-holes." "I suppose you think if you'd been there they wouldn't have got away!" "Well, did we ever slip up on a job we worked together?" Cameron asked. Copyright, 1954, by Nick Summer. Pickaway Club Ladies Attend Two Tournaments

Participation in two invitational tournaments and a regular Ladies Day at the local Country Club highlighted the week for the lady golfers of the Pickaway Country Club.

A total of 18 women enjoyed a "flying partners" play, followed by the regular Ladies Day luncheon at the club. Mrs. Carl Zehner and Miss Dianne Mason won first place in the game; with Mrs. Luther Bower and Mrs. Gordon Frazer in second place. Mrs. Bower had low putts and Mrs. George Crites scored second low putts in the play.

Fifteen local ladies were guests of the London Country Club for an invitational tournament, attended by 80 golfers on Tuesday.

Members of the Dayton, Urbana, Bellefontaine, Chillicothe, Circleville and London clubs participated in the play, with Circleville taking many honors.

Mrs. Herbert Eshelman held low gross of the day, while Mrs. Ben Gordon had low net. Four Circleville women, Mrs. Carl Mason, Mrs. Jack Leroy, Mrs. Willard Timmons and Mrs. E. W. Hedges, tied for low putts. Mrs. Gerald Crites had most strokes on the number six hole.

A total of 95 golfers attended the Washington C. H. invitational tournament held Wednesday. Circleville was represented by nine ladies, who vied with University Country Club, of Columbus, Logan, Chillicothe, Wilmington, London, and the hostess club.

Mrs. Ruth Athey won fourth low gross in 18 hole play; with Mrs. Gordon taking first place for low gross in the 9 hole play. Mrs. Emory Ridlon held low putts for the nine holes, while Mrs. Dudley Carpenter held fourth low putts for the 18 hole play. Mrs. Jack Leroy scored low putts for the day.

The local ladies have made plans for a small invitational tournament to be held next Thursday at the Pickaway Club. Sunbury and Columbus Country Club members are to be guests for the day.

Tee-off time is scheduled for 9 a. m., with a luncheon to follow the play. Local members are asked to make reservations for the luncheon by Tuesday.

Marilyn Blair Becomes Bride Of Robert Gibson In Indiana

A wedding of interest to the Circleville community was read in Indiana, when Miss Marilyn Blair, daughter of a former Pickaway County agent, the late F. Kelsay Blair, and Mrs. Blair, became the bride of Robert G. Gibson.

The double-ring ceremony was read in the Maple Run Friends Church, near Marion, Ind., with the Rev. Ken Harvey officiating. The altar was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and palms, flanked by seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Blair, mother of the bride, now is a resident of Fairmount, Ind. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gibson of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Preceding the ceremony, the church organist presented a program of traditional bridal music. Miss Audrey Wright, vocalist, sang, "Because", "At Dawning", and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Lowell Blair, chose for her wedding a floor length gown of French thread lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The moulded lace bodice was fashioned with a scooped neckline, outlined in lace flowerettes which were embroidered with sequins.

Long lace mitts complimented the short sleeves. Her waist length veil of French illusion was held in place by a lace half-hat edged with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations centered with pink sweetheart roses. Identical waltz-length gowns were worn by Miss Dorothy Burdick, maid of honor, and Miss Shirley Ash and Miss Carolyn Wade, bridesmaids.

The dresses of aqua foam crystallette featured fitted bodices, scooped necklines and short sleeves. White nylon gloves and velvet bands holding circular veils completed their costumes. They carried colonial bouquets of white carnations and pink roses.

Lisle Gibson, brother of the groom, served as best man. Seating the guests were David Blair of Fairmount, brother of the bride and Adrian Gibson and Gerald Gibson, brothers of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple received friends and relatives in the church basement. Mrs. Blair, mother of the bride, chose a navy Summer suit with white accessories for the occasion. She wore a corsage of pink roses, trimmed in white.

Mrs. Gibson, mother of the groom, wore a dress of light gray, accented with accessories of shell pink. She also wore a corsage of pink roses.

The couple is making a wedding tour of the Northern states. The bride traveled in a rose suit, with accessories in white. She wore a corsage of pink roses taken from her bridal bouquet. Following the wedding trip, the new Mr. and Mrs. Gibson will reside in Bluffton, Ind.

Mrs. Gibson is a graduate of Fairmount High School and Ball State Teachers College. She is a Home Economics teacher in the Bluffton city schools.

Mr. Gibson is a graduate of Swayzee High School and is employed at the Bluffton Central Dairy.

Black Hurls Good Game As Redlegs Win

CINCINNATI (AP)—Joe Black, a bit sweated after his first victory as a Cincinnati Redleg, pointed to his head and said:

"Here's the only battle I got to win now. My troubles haven't been physical but mental. I didn't lose my stuff—just the ability to relax. I was throwing every pitch like the fate of the world hung on it."

Black, the former Brooklyn Dodger, pitched the last 6 2-3 innings Friday night as the Cincinnati Redlegs bounced the Milwaukee Braves 14-2. He relieved starter Gerry Staley. The squads square off again tonight in the second of a three game series.

The 31-year-old righthander allowed only two hits, including Joe Adcock's home run in the seventh. The Braves went out in front in the first frame on two singles and a sacrifice fly. Then the Reds started spraying the ball.

Ted Kuszewski's 24th home run of the season, with one aboard, broke a drought which had plagued the first baseman during his two previous outings. The round-tripper tied him once again with Brooklyn's Duke Snider for the loop's home run lead.

Wally Post smashed his 17th, and Gus Bell and Smoky Burgess also homered. It was No. 10 for both.

The Braves were knocked out of second place into third by the reversal.

NEW YORK (AP)—It should be an old fashioned Fourth of July for Archie Moore with sky rockets, Roman candles, cannon crackers and pin wheels to celebrate the end of a mission—a heavyweight title shot.

The 38-year-old ring gypsy, who changes home towns with the seasons, finally has caught up with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano. They will meet in a 15-round match, Tuesday, Sept. 20 at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Million dollar gate talk is in the air. Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, estimates a $750,000 house with another $250,000 from theater network television. There will be no home television, but a radio broadcast probably will be worked out. Both managers, Al Weill of Marciano and Charlie Johnston of Moore, believe the fight will draw "a million or more."

At $40 tops, the fight should bring both Marciano and Moore their richest purses. Rocky's biggest score was his $200,568 share of the gate for his first match with Ezzard Charles last summer. Moore's highest money mark was his $81,668 June 22 for his knock-out of middleweight champ Bobo Olson. Marciano gets 40 per cent and Moore 20 per cent of this gate and the same share of the after-TV, radio and the movies.

In case Moore upsets Marciano, already the 13 to 5 favorite, there will be a rematch in 90 to 120 days (probably February) at a 30-30 percentage split.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announced today they have obtained on waivers Dave Philley, 35, switch-hitting outfielder of the Cleveland Indians.

City And County Officials Warn Against Littering Roadways

Imprisonment, Jail Sentences Await Violators

Old City Ordinance Prohibited Trash, Rubbish On Streets

"Litter bug" season is upon Pickaway County once again. However, this time it is not limited just to rural areas. Complaints have reached city police concerning the littering of city streets.

Chief Elmer Merriman and City Health Director C. O. Leist say that those caught littering city streets will be dealt with harshly. They cited an old city ordinance, still in effect, dating back to 1906: "It is unlawful to throw or empty trash, ashes, etc. on streets, alleys, etc. except for removal by the city or by special permission."

"VIOLATORS can be fined not more than $50 and can be jailed up to 10 days for each offense."

"Coal ashes are permitted if they are placed in a box which will be emptied. However, the box must be taken back after being emptied."

Rubbish, trash and tin cans are beginning to clutter up some roads and alleys in the city. Both officials point out that not only is this practice unsightly but also unsanitary.

The dumping of trash on county and township roads has long been a problem. One sign just put up on Route 23 south of South Bloomfield calls attention to the fact that dumping at unauthorized places can mean a $50 fine.

A well-marked rubbish receptacle has been placed at the side of Route 23 just a little farther south of the sign. There are signs on the highway directing attention to the rubbish can.

SHERIFF Charles Radcliff said that with the big weekend coming up, motorists will tend to throw rubbish—from Kleenexes to paper cups and sandwich wrappings to garbage—out the windows of their cars. Many, he noted, will be returning from outings and picnics and may have "rubbish" in the car which they want to get rid of.

All law enforcement officers, in addition to patrolling the roads for traffic violations, will also be on the lookout for "dumpers". Last winter, a sheriff's deputy traced one motorist to Franklin County for dumping garbage on a county road.

When brought to court, the motorist commented that he had dumped garbage for some time and had never been caught. He added that he sure had to come a long way to pay a fine.

County and city residents and motorists are asked to take more care so as not to become "litter bugs". Law enforcement officials note that there is nothing more unsightly to passing motorists than to see refuse littering a highway which otherwise beholds some of the most beautiful farmland in Ohio.

Trash along the roads can cause expensive damage to mowing equipment used by the State Highway Department. Bottles and cans may cut auto tires and cause a dangerous blow-out.

There is about a four million seasonal variation in the number of U. S. people at work or looking for work.

Eminent domain is the right of the government to take property and pay the market value for the use of the land for public utility.

Lausche, Assembly Get Along Well

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Partisan politics wasn't forgotten, but it wasn't the overriding influence in the Republican-controlled 101st General Assembly.

Relations with the governor's office, occupied by five-term Democrat Frank J. Lausche, were smoother than in either the 1951 or 1953 legislative sessions. The GOP dominated both those legislatures and Lausche, of course, was the governor.

Both Senate President Pro-tem C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville and House Speaker Roger Cloud of DeGraff breakfasted several times with Lausche at the Governor's Mansion to discuss legislation. They and other Republicans often visited the governor's office.

Only on a few occasions did Lausche write to legislators to let his views be known. Never did he take off the gloves—as he has in some past sessions — and really slug it out for his views.

And Republican criticism of the governor—at least in public floor debate—was reduced sharply.

Democrat Lausche and Republican Mechem teamed up, in effect, in a "no-new-taxes" pledge to the consternation and frustration of some House Republicans.

This firm stand against new taxes on the part of the governor was interpreted by some observers as an indication Lausche does not plan to be a candidate for a sixth term.

They reason this way: Lausche is fully aware that by the 1957 term of the Legislature, new taxes almost certainly will be needed to finance the growth of the state government; but he felt he could stave off that evil day by strict economy, step out of office with a balanced budget and leave the bonus of new taxes to his successor.

Whether he was just having fun the other day or whether he was dropping a hint is debatable. But he told newsmen: "Expenditures were increased (by the Legislature) beyond my recommendations to the point where the Legislature of 1957 and the governor who will then be in office will have a painful and burdensome problem in providing the moneys needed to carry on what was started by the present General Assembly."

He laughed when newsmen asked the significance of the fact he backed up in dictating his statement to insert the phrase "... and the governor who will then be in office..."

Whether the era of good feeling between the assembly and the governor will last through July 13 is anybody's guess.

It all depends on what legislative acts—and how many—Lausche vetoes.

July 13 is the day the Legislature will consider vetoes and adjourn for good. More than two-thirds of the entire legislative program—210 bills—was sent to Lausche Wednesday for signature.

Farm Extension Service Began 50 Years Ago

In Half Century Staff Has Grown From 1 To 317

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Agricultural Extension Service at Ohio State University was organized 50 years ago Friday with a staff of one—its founder, A. B. Graham.

Today the service has a state staff of over 80, plus 237 county agents, home demonstration workers and 4-H club or associate agents.

"We started with the idea that we had something to extend—here it is," says Graham.

"But... we soon learned better," he added with a laugh. He referred to extension policy of basing its educational work on recommendations of advisory committees of farmers and homemakers.

GRAHAM SAID the extension program in 1905 consisted of lessons about soil, regardless of where in Ohio meetings or demonstrations were held.

To supplement this, lessons were given in dairying, horticulture, livestock or poultry, depending on the chief farm enterprise in a given area.

Community committees in early days asked for presentations on specific subjects, and these groups developed into today's advisory committees.

Today, each of Ohio's 88 counties determines its extension program in meetings of local people and extension staff members.

Graham wanted to bring farming to "acceptance among business and professional people" and keep "the right boys and girls on the farm."

To those ends, the service backed formations of youth farm clubs and promotion of agricultural teaching in smaller high schools.

W. B. WOOD, present extension director, says the service has branched out.

A monthly bulletin service has grown into a $15,000 yearly operation, Wood says. The organization offers news releases to newspapers and radio stations. Consumer information has been started.

"Although we've grown and offer more services to more people and use modern methods," Wood said, "our philosophy—educational service to Ohioans—is the same in some respects today as it was 50 years ago."

"I just had an urge," he told police. "We don't have any pretty buildings like this in Pulaski. I never saw a window that big. I just had to hop through it."

The 7-by-11 foot plate glass window costs $250.

Waits, a railroad worker, said,

"It'll take quite a bit of gandy dancing to raise that kind of money, but it was worth it." He suffered only a three-inch gash on his hand.

The 18 per cent of U. S. highways that get federal aid carry 42 per cent of the traffic.

Grow-little pigs-grow....

Young pigs will grow and grow as pigs never grew before if they are fed

NEW Red ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS

Creep feed these vitamin packed pellets to young pigs at 5 days of age. Your pigs will reach early weaning at 4 to 5 weeks, maintain rapid growth — and soon be on their profit way to pork chops.

RED ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS help to grow young pigs in a hurry for this reason: they supplement the sow's milk, and supply additional vitamins and antibiotics which permit the litter to be weaned earlier without setbacks in growth. The high antibiotics and vitamin levels in RED ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS help prevent scouring, insure against anemia and develop vigor.

Pigs fed RED ROSE PIG STARTER PELLETS grow more uniformly and reach market weights earlier. So, feed these pellets to your pigs. Remember, better pork profits come from better early feeding.
